Provincial Memorial Service, Wednesday, December 11, 2013.

The venue for the Provincial Memorial Service, which takes place this Wednesday, December 11, 2013, has changed to Christian Revival Church (CRC) because of the rainy weather and consideration not to interfere with the pitch for the CHAN soccer tournament, which takes place in January. The provincial memorial service will start at 10 am.

Night Vigil at Naval Hill, Tuesday, December 10, 2013.

People are asked to converge at President Hotel at 5pm on the foot of Naval Hill where all cars will be parked for a march starting at 7pm to the Statue of Tata Mandela at the Naval Hill. Marchers are asked to bring along their own candles. The march will end at 9pm.

It remains the Free State Provincial Government's prerogative, as Tata Mandela would have wished, to always keep the media, and general populace at large, informed about the good work the government continues to do. Working together, we are ensuring that South Africa is indeed a better country than it was before the late Mandela took to office, in 1994.

Issued by the Free State Provincial Government Communication Services.
